

WANTED!

Volunteers to the conference Cities of the Future - Sustainable Urban Planning and Water Management

PhD and Master students in architecture, urban planning and civil and environmental engineering – don't miss the most important conference of the year. It takes place in Stockholm 22-25 May.

Cities are parts of the dream about a better life. But cities change. How does one tackle environmental problems, climate changes, shrinking or increasing populations, competition between regions and users of limited water resources? And how can we create more attractive cities?

As a volunteer you will work as administrator and reporter at the structured workshops, Tuesday 24 May. There will be no salary, but you will get the chance to meet and listen to some highly interesting experts at the forefront of city planning and water management during the conference.

Please contact Frida Pettersson for more information and for registration (frida.pettersson@cit.chalmers.se )

Have a look at the conference web-site for more information:
www.cof2011stockholm.org

